

WHAT'S IT WORTH?

Finding the value in dusty treasures!

A Presentation From

Back to the Past Collectibles has been in the business of helping families determine the value of their vintage items and bring them to market for more than 30 years!

In this discussion, evaluation expert Scott Lovejoy will use audience interaction to demonstrate how old comics, toys, records, movie posters (and more) can have more worth than you realize!

Plus, we will share tales from the road that have taught us lessons in the best ways to go about turning houses and storage units of old stuff into gold! Both entertaining and informative, attendees will leave with a greater understanding about how it all works.
